District telephone communication from Muskogee to-night with Frank Jones, a deputy sheriff at Pierce, which is one mile northwest the site of the burned home of Chief Crazy Snake, of the Snake Indians, elicited the information that Crazy Snake sent an Indian courier into Pierce late this afternoon bringing word that the chief would surrender if Col Hoffman and the soldiers would come

It was gathered that Crazy Snake was hiding in the Tiger Mountains, probably the inference was taken that the chief was constantly shifting his position.

Self-defense Is Urged.

PARALYTIC'S WILL CONTESTED Nurse Who Married Aged Patien in Legal Tangle.

A young nurse who married a weak and enile paralytic, eighty-four years old, and heirs who are fighting to declare the eremony invalid on the ground that the bridegroom was apoplectic, are the contestants in a legal tangle over the will of John A. Brown, now being thrashed out before Justice Wright.

Rachel Ann Richardson, the nurse who became his wife in what was declared to be "a deathbed marriage," appeared in court yesterday only to be identified. The will left by Brown names a Miss Reeves. Rumor of Arrest Is Generally Cred- of Philadelphia, as the benedelary. There are relatives of Brown who ask for a por tion of the estate, and the joung wife is fighting for her dower rights.

The relatives of the aged bridegroom are attempting to show that his mind was vacant at the time of the marriage; that he was pressed and forced to it by suggestion. It is said that Brown's closes Muskogee, Okla., March 30.-Word was friends and relatives were prevented from brought here to-night from Checotah, seeing him during his illness, when Miss mary is held, to promulgate a set of twenty-one miles south of Muskogee, by Richardson's services as nurse so imprinciples, and especially to set forth the P. Tombs, a young man whom he had befriended.

The testimony of the two physicians was contradictory. Dr. Strickler denied night's battle near his home, and that that he had said, "Brown might die at he is being held at Thompson's farm, any moment," or that he had advised eighteen miles west of Checotah, as it Miss Richardson to marry him the morn-Dr. Kaufman said that the former had made the first statement, and contra-dicted him on a score of minor points. A telephone message to Checotah failed to confirm the report, although it was clear the morning of the ceremony, she said, and he insisted on having it performed. There was testimony also a the money paid for the license and the expenses of the marriage.

Howard H. Tombs testified that he had alled at Brown's home three times out being able to see him. He said that just previous to his marriage he had suffered a stroke which had caused him to lie in a bathtub four hours.

FAVORS CALLING CONVENTION

Lynchburg Representative Advocates Policy of Party Passing Upon the Prohibition Question and Not Permitting Gubernatorial Candidates to Set Forth Its Principles.

Special to The Washington Herald. Lynchburg, Va., March 30 .- The demand or a Democratic State convention this summer before the gubernatorial primary is held, to promulgate a set of coming widespread. Representative Carter Glass, of the Eighth district, in an editorial in his master paper, the Lynchburg News, comes out strongly in favor of a Democratic convention to settle the question of State policies, supplementing the plea of former Gov. William E. Cameron, and other prominent men in State politics.

Another voice was added to-day for the State convention by Irvine P. Whitehead, of this city, who is a member of the State Democratic committee. Mr. Whitehead says that he intends to do all he can to have the convention called.

Representative Glass declares that in view of the vigorous and persistent disposition on the part of some to thrust prohibition to the front in Virginia politics just now, he ventures to inquire what is the position of the Democratic party on the question. He says that the positions of Judge Mann and Mr. Tucker cannot be regarded as the position of the party. He holds that the party should not enter the gubernatorial fight as a 'platformless" organization.

While the Anti-Saloon League dis-claims being in politics, he asserts that the remarkable spectacle has been witing to the action of the league as a Democratic guide book.
